FOREWORD

The Senior Class will soon embark on that great journey through life. The unfathomable future beckons to us to set sail on its illimitable expanses. It is the call of the unknown, the undiscovered, which challenges us, and like all good sailors, we must go. ~ ~ ~ ~

In presenting this volume of the 1935 Stespean, we hope to perpetuate the memory of this Senior Class and that you will wish us "Bon Voyage". ~ ~ ~ ~

DEDICATION

TO

DEAN CHARLES R. WIMMER

WHO, BY HIS AMIABLE DISPOSITION, HIS DEVOTION TO HIS WORK, AND HIS FIDELITY TO THE AIMS AND OBJECTIVES OF UNION COLLEGE, HAS WON THE LOVE AND ADMIRATION OF ALL WHO KNOW HIM, WE DEDICATE WITH GRATITUDE THE 1935 STESPEAN.

. . IN MEMORIAM . .

CLARIBEL R. EATON

Miss Eaton came to Union in 1931 from Washington, D. C. In spite of her brief stay with us, she made a place that will be long remembered in the history of the school. Her sympathetic and understanding nature caused the students to turn to her with their problems and difficulties. She was never too weary or too busy to listen or advise. From her personality there radiated a charm, grace, and dignity that inspired reverence and love. By her untimely death on March 2, of this year, Union College lost a faithful supporter, and the world a useful servant.

IRA B. PEAVY

On Saturday evening, December 29, 1934, Prof. I. B. Peavy died at Upland, Indiana. His passing was indeed a loss to his many friends and students, and to the faculty members with whom he was connected during his long years as a teacher. After fifteen years as teacher in Edinboro, Pennsylvania, and nine years at Taylor University, Upland, Indiana, Prof. Peavy came to Union College in 1920 as head of the Department of Biology and Natural Science. He served in this capacity until 1933, when he became Professor Emeritus. His Christian personality and kindness made him indeed beloved by all who came in contact with him.

THE 1935 STESPEAN

VARSITY FOOTBALL

For the second consecutive season, the Union College Bulldogs closed their schedule without a single loss. With a comparatively small team, Coach Bacon developed a well-rounded squad that functioned as smoothly and as spectacularly as any Orange and Black combination ever produced at Union. With the loss of several men by graduation, Coach Bacon will be faced with the problem of rebuilding his squad for the '35 season, but with a fine freshman crop at hand, we are hoping that the coming season will add more laurels to those already won by Union.

Below is the 1934 record:

Union	31; Lees McRae	6
Union	14; Eastern	7
Union	15; Morehead	8
Union	0; Tennessee Teachers	0
Union	0; Georgetown	0
Union	12; Transylvania	0
Union	7; University of Louisville	0

VARSIITY FOOTBALL

OWENS-FAULKNER

Cheer Leaders

Vivian and Eleanor were chosen from the freshman class to aid the Varsity cheer-leader, R. C. Johnson. The successful season was in no small way due to their ability to maintain enthusiasm.

YORK—End

John played his last and best year for Alma Mater in the 1934 season. In addition to being Captain of the eleven, he was the spark of the team; his accuracy at pass receiving made our offense a constant threat and more than once resulted in a scoring possibility.

GALBRAITH—Guard

Co-Captain Galbraith broke the jinx of injury and filled his position at guard admirably well. Milton's fight will be Union's loss in his graduation.

TURNER—Center

John Alden (Spud) Turner was Union's first contribution to an all-State eleven. Although handicapped in weight, he overcame that loss in defensive play. Union expects a duplication of his achievement during his Senior year.

BACON—Coach

Dick Bacon, the man who spent many sleepless nights because of the lack of material, and the one to whom success of the undefeated team was due in a large measure, merits the appreciation which is felt by all the students in Union. Can't we make it "three in a row," Coach?

THE 1935 STESPEAN

VARSITY FOOTBALL

YOUNG—Back

In spite of his injured shoulder, Tubby's bullet-like passes kept the defensive team guessing. We are expecting him to reach a new peak in the '35 season.

SYMANSIC—Back

Tommy's punting and returning of punts will never be forgotten at Union. He is a triple-threat man, and one that any coach could well be proud of having. In his next two years at Union, he should go far.

BURCH—Back

The same fight that "Ossie" used in carrying over the winning touchdown at Louisville characterized his entire season. He, too, has another year in which to display his wares on the gridiron.

BUCHANNAN—Back

"Buck" is an asset to any team by being able to play either on end or in the backfield. The tougher they got, the better he liked 'em. He will wear the Orange and Black again next season.

MIRACLE—Back

Andy, a Sophomore, was a valuable man to the varsity team this season. His defensive play in backing up the line was his strong point.

LUKE—Back

T. J., the Georgia flash, was known for his speed and perseverance. His place on the 1935 squad will be hard to fill, and we regret that he has been with us only two years.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

SAYLOR—Guard

Red Bird can well be proud of their only representative, "Bull" Saylor, on Union's team. We are fortunate in having Millard with us for another year.

STRINGER—Tackle

"Curt" was the biggest man on the team. His scrappy line play in the Transy game was his most outstanding work of the year. If he continues to improve during his next two years, he will receive much recognition.

HORRALL—End

Probably no man on the entire squad fought against more difficulty than "Rock." Although he was inexperienced in football, he entered the season as a regular and played excellent ball throughout.

MESSER—Center

"Rick" has donned the Orange and Black togs for the last time. His splendid work during his football career will make him long remembered in Union's athletic history.

GAINES—Tackle

Although an early-season injury kept Johnny from a berth on the regular team, he showed great determination by being there for practice every day. His last year should be one in which he can show his ability.

LANDRETH—Back

Eddie was always a good man to have around. When called upon he was always ready to give the necessary punch that was needed.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

MORTON—Tackle

Although unable to hit his stride in the '34 season, we are expecting as great things of him in his Junior and Senior years as he has heretofore done. More power to you, Bill.

LEWIS—Guard

Handicapped by being ineligible at the beginning of the season, T. G. displayed a great interest in football, and we miss our guess if he isn't one of the up-and-coming men on the gridiron.

CORNELIUS—End

Kelley was one of the speediest men on the squad. With a little more determination on his part we will find him on the starting line-up.

CATRON—Tackle

Injury removed Bert from the squad this year, but we expect him to be on the receiving end of a lot of passes next season.

PATTERSON—Back

Next year being "Pat's" last, he is going to show that one can come back. We'll be looking at you next year, Roland.

RAINES—Back

Whatever might be said about "Moose-face" Bill, he can hit that line like a veteran. Next year he should be assigned the task of doing this in every game.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Union College Basketeers had a reasonably successful season this year. They started off with a bang during the Christmas holidays and asserted themselves as strong S. I. A. A. contenders before the season had progressed very far. With a squad that could boast of only four regulars from last year, Coach Bacon developed a combination that functioned smoothly and beautifully. It was a treat to see the Orange and Black get going and when they began to click, it was difficult, to say the least, for the opposing team to analyze their plays and thwart the victory drive.

York, Luke, and Davis, playing their last year for Alma Mater, did credit to themselves and to the tutelage of Coach Bacon. However, Gaines, Catron, Horrall, and Messer come in for their part of the glory in no small way. With a wealth of freshman material at hand next season, and Sophomore and Junior players from this year back, Union should have no trouble in running "rough-shod" over the opponents of the coming season.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Coach Es Davis, Frosh mentor, had an exceptionally fine season during 1934. He started off with a host of players that would thrill the heart of any coach. There were about thirty-five boys who answered the call for the first practice session, and they ranged in size from midgets to giant, husky fellows; some had seen a football and many had played fine games in high school, but at the same time quite a few had never so much as seen a football before coming to Union. Coach Davis, however, saw the potential power he had in that group of players, and after days and days of hard practice, he turned out a team that didn't lose a game throughout the entire season.

In the backfield, Franz, Vallance, and Sullivan were the best ground-gainers. However, accurate passing to such an end as "Rusty" Carey many times resulted in another touchdown for the Bullpups. In the line, the boys were about equally fervent and spirited, but the work of Talbert, Cline, Faulkner, and Stamper deserves to be mentioned because of the fine way in which they played their positions.

It is felt that some of the boys who played such fine ball as freshmen will give the varsity candidates a run for their money in the '35 season.

"The greatest freshman team ever to play on the U. C. floor"—the verdict of all who saw the Davismen in action. One of the most thrilling sights for the basketball fan was to watch that deliberate, perfectly executed shot of Sullivan, one of the really great frosh players. He was not in a class by himself, however, for Cline, Smith, and Hollis Hodges were among those who helped to make the name of Union freshmen highly respected among coaches who saw their teams unmercifully beaten by the fast-breaking, accurate shooting "greenies."

The freshman aggregation only lost one game throughout the season. The Hazel Green-Frogs tallied in the last minutes of the game to turn the frosh back, 27-30. However, when the Green-Frogs visited the Bullpups on the Union gym, the table was turned and the Green-Frogs took the most severe drubbing of the season. The one loss was early in the season and served as a bit of caution in succeeding games to the confident freshmen.

The work of the Davis second-stringers deserves recognition because of the fact there was little difference, if any, between them and the regular players. It was difficult to tell when the first team was on the floor, or whether there were some subs in, so well did they substitute. For that reason, Horrall, Holbert Hodges, Martin, Stamper, Pitzer, and Boggs must share in all the laurels won by the froshies.

VARSITY TENNIS

Ed Simpson, Claude Faulkner, Everett Erickson, and George (Tank) Davis, members of the 1934 Union College net team, made a most enviable record: They didn't lose a single S. I. A. A. game. And that's not the half of it either. They invaded the South and met with amazing success, except in the case of Emory University, where, it seems, the boys lost the art of wielding the racquet. The loss to Emory was more than compensated for, however, at the Kentucky S. I. A. A. tournament, where the boys from Union made themselves look like veterans. Union won easily over Georgetown, but found the opposition stiffer with Centre. The longest match of the tournament was played by Simpson of Union and Jones of Centre, and so equally matched were the two that one found it difficult to defeat the other. The spectators felt the strain as well as did the players, and only through near fatigue was Jones able to outpoint Simpson to win the match.

The prospects for tennis in the 1935 season look good. Although Coach Gibson will have to recruit some one to fill the ranks left vacant by graduation of Simpson and Erickson, it is felt that with the freshman material from the '34 season eligible to compete this year, he will have no trouble in turning out a team that will offer other S. I. A. A. teams their money's worth of competition.
